1,000 PERSONS KILLED, 600 INJURED ON ISLAND OF PALOEWEH IN EAST

Nine Ships Reported to Have Been Sunk Off Celebes Island From Tidal Wave

Six Villages Reported to Have Been Completely Destroyed By the Upheaval

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—One thousand persons were killed and 600 were injured when six villages were destroyed by an eruption of the volcanic mountain Rokatininda on the island of Paloeweh, according to dispatches received here today from Batavia.

Casualties and property destruction centered in the southwestern part of the island.

Nine ships were reported to have been sunk off Celebes island. The eruptions on Paloeweh began Saturday. The sea at once rose 16½ feet on all sides of the island. Many people perished by fleeing into the sea to escape the molten lava. The coast of Flores island was swept by the tidal wave.

Paloeweh is a tiny island off the northern coast of the island of Flores, in the Flores sea. It is directly south of the Philippines and southwest of Borneo.

Paloeweh is a Dutch possession, which accounts for dispatches from Batavia being sent direct to Amsterdam.

Many persons were injured by falling stones, and some were killed in fires, a Batavia dispatch said. About 5,000 people, nearly all natives, remain on the island.

The Dutch official resident is visiting the island to investigate the extent of the damage.

GOOD ROADS AS REGULATOR OF FREIGHT RATES

St. Paul, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Good roads are an important and valuable means of regulating freight rates, C. M. Babcock, state highway commissioner declared in a statement late yesterday which touched upon the recent permits granted to motor truck lines in western Minnesota.

"All the people in the Fargo district, especially the farmers, will be benefited," Babcock said by the five permits granted to additional freight truck lines in the territory covered by the so-called Fargo rate decision of the I. C. C.

"The fact that good roads exist all over the state will help to hold railroad rates down where there might otherwise be a tendency to increase them."

HICKMAN TO BE AGAIN SENTENCED TO DEATH BY COURT

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—William Edward Hickman, self-styled "Fox" and confessed murderer of Marion Parker, 12-year-old school girl, again will be sentenced to death on the gallows today.

Legal procedure took the case to the state's highest court, where the hanging sentence was upheld. A new trial was denied and the repeating of the death sentence is but a matter of formality.

Hickman will not be present when the court again reads the hanging sentence.

The sentence will be executed not more than 90 days nor less than 60 days from the time it is pronounced by the court. The date of hanging then would be set between Oct. 8 and Nov. 7.

BROKER FALLS ON ROOF, INSTANTLY KILLED

Philadelphia, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Arthur H. Vail, broker and well known in the Packard building here, was instantly killed today.

Vail's body was found upon the roof of an adjoining building.

He was the Philadelphia manager of Halsey, Stewart and Co., a large brokerage house.

TRAFFIC FINES ON BASIS OF MOTOR CAR'S AGE IMPOSED

New York, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Traffic fines on the basis of the motor car's age were given by Magistrate William A. Farrell who released owners of decrepit machines, fined owners of middle priced automobiles $1 and those having motor cars worth more than $4,000 were given $2 fines.

MARINE PLANES SEARCH FOR REBELS

LATTER FOUGHT GROUP OF MARINES IN NICARAGUA TUESDAY

Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Marine airplanes flashed over the Coco river region near Bokay today searching for a group of rebels who fought a marine patrol Tuesday, killing one United States marine and injuring three others.

Ten of the rebels were killed while three others were wounded.

Only the most meager information has come to Puerto Cabezas about the engagement.

A marine patrol of 48 men, in command of Captain M. A. Edson of Burlington, Vt., had been proceeding in boats up the Coco river. About sixty miles above Bokay the marines encountered the rebel group and a fierce engagement occurred.

The engagement was said to have lasted for several hours after which the rebels disappeared, following the river. Captain Edson immediately started an airplane flight in search of the men.

It was believed here that the rebels were part of the group who fired on marine planes July 23. At that time the group was believed to be the main body of the army of General Augustino Sandino, but it was unknown whether Sandino was in command of the men.

SENATOR NORRIS ON STUMP FOR LA FOLLETTE

Madison, Wis., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Sen. George W. Norris of Nebraska will stump the state of Wisconsin on behalf of LaFollette progressive candidates, making the first of a series of speeches here Monday night, Aug. 13, progressive headquarters announced today.

TORRENTIAL RAINS FLOOD SALINA, KANSAS

LARGE AREA OF THE EAST SIDE RESIDENTIAL SECTION UNDER WATER

MANY PERSONS ARE FORCED TO VACATE THEIR HOMES

Salina, Kas., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—A large area of the east side residential section was under water today as the result of torrential rains which sent Smoky river out of its banks. Basements were flooded and many persons were forced to vacate their homes.

Smoky Hill started on its rampage Sunday and has been growing steadily worse. A tributary, the Saline river, also went out of its banks.

It was feared that unless Smoky Hill begins to recede soon, the rising waters will reach a section of the business district.

ANTI-SMITH DRY DEMOCRATS MEET AT MACON, GEORGIA

Macon, Ga., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—A conference of "anti-Smith dry democrats" opened here today to plan a state-wide campaign against the New York governor. Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of Richmond, Va., was expected to speak, arriving here from Jacksonville, Fla., where 350 Florida "bone dry" democrats met yesterday.

Several southern W. C. T. U. presidents who attended a conference at Chattanooga yesterday are also expected to attend.

PRES. COOLIDGE VAINLY CASTS FLIES FOR GRAYLING

Cedar Island Lodge, Wis., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—President Coolidge has met his master among the piscatorial inhabitants of the Brule river. Thus far, the grayling, a species of fish placed in the river, has eluded his flies.

"I've caught only trout and bass," the president said today, "and I'll not be satisfied until I land a grayling."

A fisherman who fills his creel with small, swift grayling is looked upon as a master with rod and reel.

WM. J. QUINN AS DEMOCRATIC BOSS OF STATE

PRACTICALLY IN COMPLETE CONTROL OF PARTY'S 1928 CAMPAIGN HERE

QUINN IS CHAIRMAN OF DEMOCRATIC STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE

St. Paul, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—William J. Quinn, chairman of the democratic state central committee, will have practically complete control of the party's 1928 campaign in Minnesota, according to announcement made following the annual meetings of the executive committee of the state central organization.

Quinn is said to have been the official representative in Minnesota for the past two years of the New York organization seeking the election to the presidency of Governor Alfred E. Smith. Resolutions proposed by Quinn and passed over the objections of Z. H. Austin, Minneapolis, former committee chairman, included:

Increasing of the executive committee from 15 to 25 members.

Increasing the state central committee from seven to 12 members from each congressional district and from 30 to 50 members at large.

Appointment of two women from each congressional district and composition of the central organization of an equal number of men and women.

Empowering of Quinn to increase the secretarial force of the state organization to meet requirements.

LAST SEARCH ON FOR AMUNDSEN, FIVE SHIPS AID

DAILY MAIL OSLO CORRESPONDENT REPORTS PROCEEDINGS

AMUNDSEN AND COMPANIONS DROPPED OUT OF SIGHT ON JUNE 16

London, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—A last search for Roald Amundsen and his five companions, who disappeared in a French seaplane while going to aid the survivors of the dirigible Italia, will be started immediately by five ships, the Daily Mail Oslo correspondent reported today.

The sealer Heimland, the correspondent said, will search the area between South Cape and King Charles Island. The Hobby will search the vicinity of Franz Josef Land. A third expedition under the explorer Capt. Wisting will search the area between those covered by the Heimland and Hobby, and the French cruiser Strassbourg and the steamer Michael Sars will search from South Cape eastward.

Amundsen, discoverer of the south pole, and his companions left Tromsø, Norway, June 16 for Spitzbergen, and never have been heard from since.

Rome, Aug. 9.—General Umberto Nobile was received in audience today by Premier Mussolini, and made a preliminary report on the flight and wreck of the polar dirigible Italia.

'SMELLING WARRANTS' ELIMINATED IN DRY LAW CASES

Washington, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Acting Secretary of Treasury Lowman advised prohibition officers today that henceforth "smelling warrants" should be eliminated in making dry law cases.

This order virtually frees home-brewers and home wine-makers from federal interference. Lowman explained private dwellings could not be entered without a search warrant and such court papers no longer could be secured without evidence of sale.

Heretofore prohibition agents have been able to obtain warrants for entering private dwellings by "smelling" evidence of brewing or distilling.

ST. PETERSBURG AND TAMPA ISOLATED BY TERRIFIC HURRICANE

Storm Leaves Trail of Destruction Across Florida With Property and Crop Damages Estimated in the Millions of Dollars

LEGION MEN MAP OUT THEIR YEAR'S POLICIES

SECRETARY KELLOGG'S PEACE PACT RECEIVES THEIR APPROVAL

BRAINERD HAD SECOND BEST MARCHING UNIT IN PARADE

Austin, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—The 10th annual convention of the Minnesota department, American Legion and the Auxiliary, was over today with much accomplished toward policies to be pursued by the former service men's organization.

Secretary Kellogg's peace pact proposals received the approval of the convention contrary to reports published yesterday. By long distance telephone it was erroneously learned that the Legion had opposed the peace movement and had pledged itself to preparedness for war.

The Legion, however, declared itself in favor of peace, yet held that America should be prepared in the eventuality of war.

The Legion also approved military training in the University of Minnesota and in other land grant colleges.

Disabled veterans and their families were again pledged the support of their former comrades in arms. Stafford King, St. Paul, was elected department commander of the Legion and Mrs. A. C. Carlson, Winona, chosen head of the auxiliary.

Winona was chosen convention city for 1929. The Bearcat Post band, Minneapolis, the Red Wing drum and bugle corps and the Albert Lea drum and bugle corps were chosen official musical units of the Legion and the auxiliary.

Chisholm won first place for the best marching unit in the monster parade and Brainerd was second.

Before departing the Legion and the Auxiliary officially thanked Austin for the perfection of convention facilities and declared the assembly one of the best ever held in the state.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR VICTIMS OF ITALIAN SUBMARINE

Rome, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Funeral services for the 27 men and two officers who went to a tragic death when the submarine F-14 sank in the Adriatic sea, will be held Friday with the government and the entire Italian nation participating.

Mourning for these 29 men who succumbed either to drowning or to the noxious chlorine gas fumes, has been nation-wide and was the climatic event of a series of three recent disasters. The first was the crash of the polar dirigible Italia and the second was the smashup of the airplane in which Majors Carlos Del Prete and Arturo Ferrarin were riding at Rio De Janeiro.

PASTOR FOUND GUILTY OF VIOLATING MANN ACT IN ARIZONA

Prescott, Ariz., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—The Rev. Arthur Blaine Brooks, former pastor of the First Christian Church of Ponca City, Okla., today faced an 18-months term in the Nevada state penitentiary at Carson City.

A jury last night deliberated 19 minutes and found the pastor guilty of violation of the Mann act.

Miss Velma Elizabeth Voorhees, 19, accused the pastor of overcoming her objections to their relationship by the use of Biblical quotations.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Tampa and St. Petersburg on the west coast of the Florida Peninsula were isolated today as a hurricane moved northwestward to buffet a new area.

Behind the storm lay a trail of devastation across the state with property and crop damage estimated in the millions.

Reports from towns and cities in the interior and on the east coast where the full force of the hurricane had passed, continued to indicate no loss of life.

Wind velocities of 60 to 80 miles an hour were reported near Tampa early today before the hurricane swept all wires to the north down.

In Tampa Bay, lay coastwise vessels which had delayed departures until hurricane danger passed. Some fear existed for safety of shipping.

Weather bureau advices were the storm would move north of Tampa, however. At 8 A. M. today all wires were reported down 50 miles north of Tampa, and in this territory, bounded on the south by Tampa Bay and on the north by Upper Citrus county, the center of the hurricane was believed moving.

A delayed telegram from Tampa received here at 9 A. M. and apparently filed by the United Press correspondent there after midnight, said the center of the storm missed the city, although telephone and telegraph lines were damaged.

Inasmuch as Western Union lines were reported out to Tampa at dawn, it was believed the message had been delayed at some relay point.

An indication of the extent of damage in the interior came today when the United Press correspondent at Kissimmee telephoned that a small hotel was unroofed, a half dozen houses and a large garage.

Citrus groves outside the town were badly damaged he said and towns in the west were cut off. The wind had dwindled to a 30-mile an hour blow at 9 A. M. No one had been hurt, the correspondent reported.

Kissimmee is in northern Osceola county, 30 miles south of Orlando.

Jacksonville, Fla., Aug. 9.—The hurricane that has spread destruction across the Florida peninsula was rapidly hurling its full force into the Gulf of Mexico north of Tampa today. It was hoped the worst of the tropical disturbance was over.

While telephone and telegraph lines into Tampa and other west coast cities were out, information from points on the northern fringe of the hurricane path said the storm center was north of Tampa and damage was slight there and in St. Petersburg.

A score of towns in Citrus county, however, remained cut off from the outside world.

A trail of ruined houses, ruined citrus groves and crippled utilities systems lay across the state with damage estimated well into the millions. There was no reported loss of life or serious injuries.

The Inverness correspondent said Tampa northern papers reached there by train at 8 A. M. and while wire communication was at a standstill, trainmen reported damage in Tampa confined early today to telephone and telegraph lines.

THREE PERSONS HURT WHEN BUS UPSETS

LaGrange, Ind., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Three persons were injured seriously when a Chicago to Cleveland bus overturned in a ditch six miles west of here last night.

The injured: Grace Iverson, Minneapolis; C. W. Johnson, and Mrs. C. W. Johnson, Cleveland.

Charles Rutger, Chicago, driver of the bus, and several other passengers were slightly cut and bruised.

Here are photos showing the actual rescue of the intrepid airmen who manned the big Dornier-Napier flying boat "Whale," by sailors of the S. S. Minnewaska. Below, left to right, Hugh Gilmore, radio operator; Captain Frank T. Courtney, pilot; F. Noel Pierce, mechanic, and E. B. Hosmer, Montreal banker, who financed the flight.

WORK ON AIRPORT GETS UNDERWAY

To Plow, Disc and Roll 160 Acre Field for Aviators

WILL BUILD HANGAR

Gas Station and Telephone Booth Will be Part of the Equipment

With fifty acres already plowed on the Rosko field east of 13th street prospects for an airport for Brainerd looked considerably brighter today. Rosko brothers recently purchased a new Velle tractor and together with a plow and disc the work is rapidly getting under way. The plowing and discing will take at least another week and then with a roller borrowed from the city, the rolling will get under way to put the field in condition for an easy landing, or a smooth take-off.

Rosko field is a 160 acre tract of land and when completed will be suitable for any size airplane now in use to land from any direction. The safety feature of the field should make it a favorite with all aviators in the northwest. In order not to curtail any flier's plans for arrival or departure from the city the field will be prepared one half at a time to allow ample landing room for any aviator while the improvements are being made.

Another safety feature of the new field will be the absence of any obstructing telephone or power wires within a mile of the airport.

One of the improvements will be the construction of a roadway from 13th street three blocks east to the proposed location of a new hangar to be built. The new hangar will be large enough for one plane and will be built on the west side of the field near a fringe of woods and next to the new roadway.

A gas station and telephone booth will be installed close to the hangar to give the flyers every convenience. It will probably be a month before the work is entirely completed.

MARATHON DANCERS PASS 279 HOUR MARK

Brainerd Entries Appear Strong and Confident as Long Grind
Continues

TO ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Callum De Villiers, No. 13. Trained
Hard Before Dance
Began

Two hundred and seventy-nine hours this afternoon at three o'clock and still the marathon dancers plod on, each being grimly determined to be on the floor when the others finally fall a victim to the sand man or worn-out feet. Despite the excessive heat of the last twenty-four hours, no dancers have fallen by the wayside in that length of time.

Today Callum De Villiers, No. 13, seemed the freshest of the lot. He is the son of Mark De Villiers, owner of the Pure Oil gasoline station at Lanesboro, Minn. A talk with "Doc" French, who keeps De Villiers in the strictest training during the marathon convinces us that De Villiers is out to win nothing short of first place. For a week before the marathon started De Villiers walked from 15 to 20 miles a day to get his feet in condition for the long grind. De Villiers has already worn out three partners and is still going strong. At the present time he is dancing with Edna Tesmer of couple No. 1 whose comedy partner did the so-called tail spin to rest his weary head on the floor Sunday night when the call for sleep became too insistent.

The crowd is promised a treat tomorrow night when the engagement of one of the favorite girl dancers to her trainer will be made known. Before the marathon started the girl and her trainer were unknown to each other so it can truly be called a marathon romance.

All three Brainerd entries still in the race seemed in good condition today. "Cully" Rodman and smiling Mrs. Gladys Huston of Couple No. 10 assert bravely that they will be in there fighting to the end, and Melvin Bye who has already lost his partner, is in fine physical condition and determined to "bring home the bacon" for Brainerd.

Couple No. 5 are still very much in the race for final honors and their steady, tireless dancing is gaining them a host of friends.

DIVERSITY FIVE COMING TO PARK

Dance, Song, and Musical Act to Headline Bill
Sunday

STAR HOFF SISTERS

Cora Walsh, Warren and Inman and Feathered Thespians on Program

"Scott's Diversity Five" presented by Ann M. Scott, a novel assortment of dances, songs and musical numbers starring the clever Hoff Sisters in a snappy song and dance number, also introducing Wes Rogers and Don Mack versatile dance artists in a screamingly funny version of the Hawaiian hula dance, will headline the vaudeville Sunday afternoon and evening at the Park theatre.

In the act, Betty Hoff assists Don Mack in a thrilling performance of the macabre Parisian underworld dance, known as the Apache, while Dorothy Hoff shares honors with

Wes Rogers in an exquisite interpretation of the difficult and classical Adagio dance. Preceding each dance, Harvey Myhre contributes brilliantly in the way of popular songs and solo numbers on both ukelele and banjo. The revue concludes in a flashy finale, in which the entire company, in elaborate costume participates.

Cora Walsh, a scintillating songstress entertains with hot blue numbers and ballads. She is a clever accordionist as well as a singer.

Comedy, singing, talking and dancing comprise the act of Warren and Inman, a man and lady telling the story of a small town wise guy and the smart Follies girl with a theme different from others.

Ramsey's feathered Thespians have a program that is interestingly amusing. The little birds perform a repertoire of tricks such as balancing riding hobby horses, pulling miniature carriages, whistling and singing at the direction of their trainer.

Rutledge and Taylor are the originators of the one man dance due to their perfect unison in team work. They form a classy colored dance team with plenty of pep throughout their act.

Just paying for an article and carrying it home, doesn't complete the transaction in our store. An invisible part of your purchase remains to be delivered—Satisfaction. The story of the sale is "continued in our next." Six months—a year later, perhaps—you will know whether Satisfaction or Discontent, was the ending.

That is why we cannot afford to sell "seconds," imperfect goods, or bankrupt stocks. Articles that are cheapened and weakened by substitution, hid away where the buyer cannot detect them, wouldn't make a very good "ending." Quality must have its price—and Quality alone determines whether that price is economical.

Twenty-six years ago we began business in one tiny store. Today we have over 1,000, scattered from coast to coast. Apparently our customers have been satisfied with the "ending" of our merchandise story.

MARATHON DANCERS PASS 279 HOUR MARK

Braierd Entries Appear Strong and Confident as Long Grind
Continues

TO ANNOUNCE ENGAGEMENT

Callum De Villiers, No. 13, Trained
Hard Before Dance

Two hundred and seventy-nine hours this afternoon at three o'clock and still the marathon dancers plod on, each being grimly determined to be on the floor when the others finally fall a victim to the sand man or worn-out feet. Despite the excessive heat of the last twenty-four hours, no dancers have fallen by the wayside in that length of time.

Today Callum De Villiers, No. 13, seemed the freshest of the lot. He is the son of Mark De Villiers, owner of the Pure Oil gasoline station at Lanesboro, Minn. A talk with "Doc" French, who keeps De Villiers in the strictest training during the marathon convinces us that De Villiers is out to win nothing short of first place. For a week before the marathon started De Villiers walked from 15 to 20 miles a day to get his feet in condition for the long grind.

De Villiers has already worn out three partners and is still going strong. At the present time he is dancing with Edna Tesmer of couple No. 1 whose comedy partner did the so-called tail spin to rest his weary head on the floor Sunday night when the call for sleep became too insistent.

The crowd is promised a treat tomorrow night when the engagement of one of the favorite girl dancers to her trainer will be made known. Before the marathon started the girl and her trainer were unknown to each other so it can truly be called a marathon romance.

All three Braierd entries still in the race seemed in good condition today. "Cully" Rodman and smiling Mrs. Gladys Huston of Couple No. 10 assert bravely that they will be in there fighting to the end, and Melvin Bye who has already lost his partner, is in fine physical condition and determined to "bring home the bacon" for Braierd.

Couple No. 5 are still very much in the race for final honors and their steady, tireless dancing is gaining them a host of friends.

DIVERSITY FIVE COMING TO PARK

STAR HOFF SISTERS

Cora Walsh, Warren and Inman and Feathered Thespians on Program

"Scott's Diversity Five" presented by Ann M. Scott, a novel assortment of dances, songs and musical numbers starring the clever Hoff Sisters in a snappy song and dance number, also introducing Wes Rogers and Don Mack versatile duet artists in a screamingly funny version of the Hawaiian hula dance, will headline the vaudeville Sunday afternoon and evening at the Park theatre.

In the act, Betty Hoff assists Don Mack in a thrilling performance of the macabre Parisian underworld dance, known as the Apache, while Dorothy Hoff shares honors with

Wes Rogers in an exquisite interpretation of the difficult and classical Adagio dance. Preceding each dance, Harvey Myhre contributes brilliantly in the way of popular songs and solo numbers on both ukelele and banjo. The revue concludes in a flashy finale, in which the entire company, in elaborate costume participates.

Cora Walsh, a scintillating songstress entertains with hot blue numbers and ballads. She is a clever accompanist as well as a singer.

Comedy, singing, talking and dancing comprise the act of Warren and Inman, a man and lady telling the story of a small town wise guy and the smart Follies girl with a theme different from others.

Ramsey's feathered Thespians have a program that is interestingly amusing. The little birds perform a repertoire of tricks such as balancing riding hobby horses, pulling miniature carriages, whistling and singing at the direction of their trainer.

Rutledge and Taylor are the originators of the one man dance due to their perfect union in team work. They form a classy colored dance team with plenty of pep throughout their act.

MANDAMUS WRIT

Minneapolis, Aug. 9. — (UP)—Frank W. Brunskill, deposed Minneapolis chief of police, today was granted a writ of mandamus by Judge Gunnar H. Nordbye in Hennepin county district court ordering the civil service commission to reinstate him as police captain, the position he held before he was promoted to chief in 1923.

Mayor Leach, who recently discharged Brunskill for "disloyalty," intimated that he would ignore the court's ruling.

Z. L. Begin, chairman of the civil service commission, stated today that he would request the court's verdict be appealed to the state supreme court.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9, 1928

THESE SUMMER DAYS

THE editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer the other day cocked his feet on the desk, smoked a cigar and looked out of the window in the direction of the old swimming pool and overcome by recollections, carefully withdrew his feet, hauled up the old typewriter and pounded out this effusive tribute addressed to "These Summer Days":

These days of generous sunshine are very pleasant. Through them one easily may indulge in poetic fancies or sing soft melodies to the spirit of summer, and drink to the full of the romance of the summer's nights of moon and stars and strangely soothing voices.

The sunlight on the flowers is but the reflections of nature's angelic smile—the monodies and duos and threnodies and choruses of the water spirits, in brook and rill, in lake and river, are but the echoes of her heavenly voice.

The shadowy fringes of the hills beckon to the city. They seem to say: "Here may you find peace, beauty, restfulness, quietude, fragrance, freedom from the irks and cares of the daily life which holds you chained to necessity's wheel. Come to the woodland, with its altars on which God's purest and sweetest incense burns. Here fluting songs shall cheer you. Here you may dream as Endymion dreamed; or speed through shaded aisles even as Diana speeds to the cry of her eager pack.

"Or here you may find such nights as Troilus never knew, the while he sighed his soul toward the Grecian tents where Cressida lay—nights atremble with strange silences, or suddenly vibrant with slow-murmuring music not elsewhere to be heard."

There is oppression of humidity in the city—the breezes are laggard and reluctant; but, out yonder on the hills, Zephyrus pours his healing balm from melodic chalices upon all the woodland world. The tall trees bend toward one another and the loving leaves whisper in their weird and runic speech. Above, the stars laugh as they trail in the path of the sailing moon. Somewhere—very far away—a dog barks, but the sound is faint, ghostly.

The hills await the mists of the morning and the sun of the moon of another day—another July day and, whether in canoe or in counting room, it will be your day, to make much or little of as you may be able, or as may fit in with your desire.

NEW STATE MAP FOLDER AND BOOKLET

TELLING of the advantages of Minnesota as a place in which to live is the purpose of a new booklet which has just been published by the Ten Thousand Lakes Association and the Greater Minnesota Association.

The new publication is in reality an agricultural map folder. On one side there is a map of the state showing the various counties, highways, railroads and giving other information that would be desired by a prospective citizen. On the other side the agricultural advantages of the state are set forth.

Attention of the prospective settler is called to the fact that there will never be a better time than the present to invest in Minnesota; that prices are reasonable and that all kinds of farms from the fully improved to the wild undeveloped lands are available at attractive terms.

The new folder tells of the progress Minnesota has made in recent years in farm development while many other states have been going backward agriculturally. It tells of the markets which are afforded in the busy smaller cities of the state as well as the three great terminals, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. The advantages of cooperative marketing in which Minnesota leads are set forth and information is given concerning the fertility of soil and the various crops which do well here.

Attention is called to the fact that transportation facilities are the best, with more than 9,000 miles of railroads and 100,000 miles of public highways, 7,000 miles of which are included in the state trunk system. The desirability of Minnesota as a place in which to live because of her splendid educational system, her fine cities, her healthful climate and her recreational advantages is also brought out.

THE COMING INDUSTRY

THE air business is the fastest growing industry today, says the Park Rapids Enterprise. The rapid advance of the automobile during the past quarter of a century is considered marvelous, but it is safe to predict that it will look small in comparison to the rapid strides that will be made by aviation during the next few years.

Communities first to become air-conscious and make adequate provisions for handling air craft business will receive the greatest benefits. The municipal airport at Cleveland is now valued at half a million dollars more than when it was established three years ago. The total volume of traffic during the past few months exceeded that of the long established and internationally known Croydon field near London, or the Templehofer field near Berlin.

With the establishment next month of regular passenger service by the Pennsylvania railroad between Chicago and Minneapolis, the Northwest will be brought one step closer to a realization of the magnitude and possibilities of this great industry.

In its small way Park Rapids should prepare to participate. A landing field, at no far distant day, will be as vital a necessity as good roads. Let's not delay providing this essential.

As an evidence of at least a partial resumption of friendly relations between the German and the French, attention is called to the fact that recently Gustave Hartman, a Berlin cab driver, completing his fortieth year of service, drove to Paris from his home town. He was received at the French capital with unanimous expressions of good will. The people seemed almost to have forgotten the war.—Stillwater Post-Messenger.

It is estimated that at the end of 1927 there were 18,500,000 telephones in the United States, 60 per cent of the world's instruments. They are increasing in number at the rate of 750,000 a year, and the forecast is made that at the beginning of 1930 more than 20,000,000 telephones will be in use.

AVIATION in Brainerd got another impetus this morning when the Dispatch reporter, Ralph Cole, took his first ride in an airplane. "Marvelous, wonderful," said Cole in reference to his trip.

AN exchange suggests that it is extremely fortunate that short skirts and bustles did not become fashionable at one and the same time.

Russell St. Clair Beltzel, alias Bulholme (right), who was arrested in Los Angeles and held in connection with the murder of Barbara Manger, who disappeared last June and whose nude body was recently found with a bullet wound in the head. According to police the girl had been about to become a mother. Detectives and court reporter are shown getting Beltzel's statement.

ROMANCE ENDS IN THEIR MARRIAGE
Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—James Pierce, motion picture actor and Joan Burroughs, daughter of the novelist, Edgar Rice Burroughs, were en route east on a honeymoon trip today.
They married here late yesterday. They met when Pierce played the major role in the picturization of Burroughs' book, "Tarzan of the Apes."

Royalty's Resting Place
The Great pyramid of Egypt is said to have been built by Cheops more than 50,000 years ago. It measures at the base 755 feet on each of the four sides. It is 451 feet high and covers 12½ acres of land. About 6,000,000 tons of stone were used in building it. Herodotus states that it occupied 100,000 men for twenty years. It was used as tombs for kings.

Bridge Estimate Too Low
The United States Army Engineer corps says that the estimated cost of the Key bridge was $1,000,000. The actual cost was $2,350,000. The increase in the cost of construction (labor and material) between the date when the cost of the bridge was estimated and the date when it was constructed explains the large difference in the above figures.

'SHAME MURDER' TRIAL IS ON

Rockville, Md., Aug. 8.—(U.P.)—Montgomery county's famous "shame murder" approached the trial stage today with the indictment of Samuel T. Robertson, 38-year-old contractor, for the murder of Edward L. Mills, prominent dairyman.

Mills was shot down on his farm a year ago. An unsigned typewritten "confession" that he had been intimate with a married woman was found pinned to his clothing.

Evidence indicated the slayer wrote the note and killed Mills after the latter refused to sign it.

Bird Long Extinct

The moa was a wingless bird found in New Zealand, somewhat like an ostrich in appearance. It varied from the size of a turkey to birds 12 feet in height. They were edible, and their extermination more than 500 years ago is probably due to this fact.

Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh Named Special Adviser
New York, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh has been elected as special adviser of a new flight laboratory which will be established by the Daniel Guggenheim fund for the promotion of aeronautics to study the problems of flying through fog.
Announcement of the enterprise was made today by Harry P. Guggenheim, president of the foundation.
"The purpose of our investigation will be to make the airplane safe under extraordinary conditions," Guggenheim said.

THESE SUMMER DAYS

THE editor of the Cincinnati Enquirer the other day cocked his feet on the desk, smoked a cigar and looked out of the window in the direction of the old swimming pool and overcome by recollections, carefully withdrew his feet, hauled up the old typewriter and pounded out this effusive tribute addressed to "These Summer Days":

These days of generous sunshine are very pleasant. Through them one easily may indulge in poetic fancies or sing soft melodies to the spirit of summer, and drink to the full of the romance of the summer's nights of moon and stars and strangely soothing voices.

The sunlight on the flowers is but the reflections of nature's angelic smile—the monodies and duos and threnodies and choruses of the water spirits, in brook and rill, in lake and river, are but the echoes of her heavenly voice.

The shadowy fringes of the hills beckon to the city. They seem to say: "Here may you find peace, beauty, restfulness, quietude, fragrance, freedom from the irks and cares of the daily life which holds you chained to necessity's wheel. Come to the woodland, with its altars on which God's purest and sweetest incense burns. Here fluting songs shall cheer you. Here you may dream as Endymion dreamed; or speed through shaded aisles even as Diana speeds to the cry of her eager pack.

"Or here you may find such nights as Troilus never knew, the while he sighed his soul toward the Grecian tents where Cressida lay—nights atremble with strange silences, or suddenly vibrant with slow-murmuring music not elsewhere to be heard."

There is oppression of humidity in the city—the breezes are laggard and reluctant; but, out yonder on the hills, Zephyrus pours his healing balm from melodic chalices upon all the woodland world. The tall trees bend toward one another and the loving leaves whisper in their weird and runic speech. Above, the stars laugh as they trail in the path of the sailing moon. Somewhere—very far away—a dog barks, but the sound is faint, ghostly.

The hills await the mists of the morning and the sun of the moon of another day—another July day and, whether in canoe or in counting room, it will be your day, to make much or little of as you may be able, or as may fit in with your desire.

NEW STATE MAP FOLDER AND BOOKLET

TELLING of the advantages of Minnesota as a place in which to live is the purpose of a new booklet which has just been published by the Ten Thousand Lakes Association and the Greater Minnesota Association.

The new publication is in reality an agricultural map folder. On one side there is a map of the state showing the various counties, highways, railroads and giving other information that would be desired by a prospective citizen. On the other side the agricultural advantages of the state are set forth.

Attention of the prospective settler is called to the fact that there will never be a better time than the present to invest in Minnesota; that prices are reasonable and that all kinds of farms from the fully improved to the wild undeveloped lands are available at attractive terms.

The new folder tells of the progress Minnesota has made in recent years in farm development while many other states have been going backward agriculturally. It tells of the markets which are afforded in the busy smaller cities of the state as well as the three great terminals, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Duluth. The advantages of cooperative marketing in which Minnesota leads are set forth and information is given concerning the fertility of soil and the various crops which do well here.

Attention is called to the fact that transportation facilities are the best, with more than 9,000 miles of railroads and 100,000 miles of public highways, 7,000 miles of which are included in the state trunk system. The desirability of Minnesota as a place in which to live because of her splendid educational system, her fine cities, her healthful climate and her recreational advantages is also brought out.

THE COMING INDUSTRY

THE air business is the fastest growing industry today, says the Park Rapids Enterprise. The rapid advance of the automobile during the past quarter of a century is considered marvelous, but it is safe to predict that it will look small in comparison to the rapid strides that will be made by aviation during the next few years.

Communities first to become air-conscious and make adequate provisions for handling air craft business will receive the greatest benefits. The municipal airport at Cleveland is now valued at half a million dollars more than when it was established three years ago. The total volume of traffic during the past few months exceeded that of the long established and internationally known Croydon field near London, or the Templehofer field near Berlin.

With the establishment next month of regular passenger service by the Pennsylvania railroad between Chicago and Minneapolis, the Northwest will be brought one step closer to a realization of the magnitude and possibilities of this great industry.

In its small way Park Rapids should prepare to participate. A landing field, at no far distant day, will be as vital a necessity as good roads. Let's not delay providing this essential.

As an evidence of at least a partial resumption of friendly relations between the German and the French, attention is called to the fact that recently Gustave Hartman, a Berlin cab driver, completing his fortieth year of service, drove to Paris from his home town. He was received at the French capital with unanimous expressions of good will. The people seemed almost to have forgotten the war.—Stillwater Post-Messenger.

It is estimated that at the end of 1927 there were 18,500,000 telephones in the United States, 60 per cent of the world's instruments. They are increasing in number at the rate of 750,000 a year, and the forecast is made that at the beginning of 1930 more than 20,000,000 telephones will be in use.

AVIATION in Brainerd got another impetus this morning when the Dispatch reporter, Ralph Cole, took his first ride in an airplane. "Marvelous, wonderful," said Cole in reference to his trip.

AN exchange suggests that it is extremely fortunate that short skirts and bustles did not become fashionable at one and the same time.

TELLS OF SLAIN GIRL

Russell St. Clair Beitzel, alias Bulholme (right), who was arrested in Los Angeles and held in connection with the murder of Barbara Manger, who disappeared last June and whose nude body was recently found with a bullet wound in the head. According to police the girl had been about to become a mother. Detectives and court reporter are shown getting Beitzel's statement.

'SHAME MURDER' TRIAL IS ON

Rockville, Md., Aug. 8. — (UP)—Montgomery county's famous "shame murder" approached the trial stage today with the indictment of Samuel T. Robertson, 38-year-old contractor, for the murder of Edward L. Mills, prominent dairyman.

Mills was shot down on his farm a year ago. An unsigned typewritten "confession" that he had been intimate with a married woman was found pinned to his clothing.

Evidence indicated the slayer wrote the note and killed Mills after the latter refused to sign it.

Bird Long Extinct

The moa was a wingless bird found in New Zealand, somewhat like an ostrich in appearance. It varied from the size of a turkey to birds 12 feet in height. They were edible, and their extermination more than 500 years ago is probably due to this fact.

ROMANCE ENDS IN THEIR MARRIAGE

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 9. — (UP)—James Pierce, motion picture actor and Joan Burroughs, daughter of the novelist, Edgar Rice Burroughs, were en route east on a honeymoon trip today.

They married here late yesterday. They met when Pierce played the major role in the picturization of Burroughs' book, "Tarzan of the Apes."

Royalty's Resting Place

The Great pyramid of Egypt is said to have been built by Cheops more than 50,000 years ago. It measures at the base 755 feet on each of the four sides. It is 451 feet high and covers 12½ acres of land. About 6,000,000 tons of stone were used in building it. Herodotus states that it occupied 100,000 men for twenty years. It was used as tombs for kings.

Bridge Estimate Too Low

The United States Army Engineer corps says that the estimated cost of the Key bridge was $1,000,000. The actual cost was $2,350,000. The increase in the cost of construction (labor and material) between the date when the cost of the bridge was estimated and the date when it was constructed explains the large difference in the above figures.

BRAINERD HAS LARGEST BOYS' CAMP IN UNITED STATES

CAMP LINCOLN FOR BOYS ON HUBERT LAKE

IN 1923 R. F. B. COTE BECAME

BOYS FROM 12 STATES AND CAN-ADA LISTED ON ROLL

According to several critics Brainerd has one of the largest and best equipped boys' camps in the United States. Camp Lincoln for Boys located on Hubert Lake, fifteen miles north of Brainerd, is recognized as the oldest boys' camp in Minnesota, having enjoyed twenty successful years of existence. During that time there has not been a single serious accident at the camp.

The history of Camp Lincoln is an interesting one. It was founded in 1909 on a lake near Alexandria by William McCay Blake. In 1910, Mr. Blake decided on a permanent location in the pine woods region north of Brainerd. At that time the camp was known as the Blake Camp for Boys.

In 1923 the camp name was changed to Camp Lincoln for Boys when R. F. B. Cote became the owner of the camp.

The growth and prosperity of Brainerd's camp for boys has been phenomenal. In 1923 the boys at Camp Lincoln were numbered at about thirty, while the present season finds one hundred and fifteen boys enrolled at the camp.

Boys from twelve states and Canada are listed on the roll of Camp Lincoln members this year. Several boys have come up from Texas this summer, and the Oklahoma delegation of boys numbers thirteen.

Camp Lincoln still boasts its famous roll of counselors. They are the best to be secured anywhere. Herbert Joesting, all-American full-back; Coach E. S. Dean, head basketball coach and baseball coach at the University of Indiana; Chuck Everett, greatest of all time athlete of Drake University; and Harry Faulkner, famed swimming instructor of Dallas, Texas, are some of the staff men in charge of the boys.

A feature which has proved very popular with the boys at camp this year is the program of trips taken out of camp. Three extensive trips have been scheduled for the summer so that each boy in camp may have the opportunity to go on one of them.

At present twenty boys are spending a week at Itasca State Park in encampment with the School of Forestry. Mr. Joesting is in charge. Here they will study forestry with the state campers.

Two other trips of note will be taken. One of them is a seven-day trip down the Mississippi to Minneapolis. The other trip will be a Canadian canoe trip. Boys going on this trip will spend a major portion of two weeks canoeing on Canadian streams north of Duluth and Ely, Minn.

The first half of the camping period of eight weeks has just come to a close.

Those wishing to visit Brainerd's camp for boys may do so any Sunday afternoon.

GENE TUNNEY IS TO MARRY RICH SOCIETY GIRL

ENGAGEMENT CONFIRMED LAST NIGHT

THEY WILL BE MARRIED THIS AUTUMN OR WINTER IN
NEW YORK

ROMANCE OF TWO GOES BACK 6
YEARS AGO WHEN GIRL WAS
16 YEARS OLD

By MORRIS DE HAVEN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Aug. 9.—The love of a man for a maid has given the world its most remarkable heavyweight champion pugilist.

The champion is Gene Tunney, now retired. And the maid is Mary Josephine Lauder, daughter of one of the country's first and richest families. They will be married this autumn or winter, probably in New York.

The rumored engagement of the champion and the Greenwich, Conn., society girl, was confirmed last night in an announcement made by friends of Tunney and of Mrs. George Lauder, Jr., the mother of Miss Lauder.

at Mrs. Lauder's request. Only with that announcement did it become possible to tell the true story of why Gene Tunney not only became a champion and a millionaire, but also how he became a Shakespearean scholar, a man of culture, and a man received into the salons and drawing room of the elite.

The story, when told, removes the mystery from the activities of Tunney while champion—activities which often brought him jeers from the followers of pugilism.

As gathered from friends of Tunney and of the Lauder family, the romance goes back some five or six years when Mary Josephine Lauder was a girl of about 16. Tunney found her an altogether charming young woman.

After his usual thoughtful method of operation, he took stock of himself. He was a young prize-fighter, just getting a little more than started. His social position was that of the son of Irish immigrants, born in Greenwich Village, N. Y., and turned prize-fighter.

Mary Josephine Lauder was the daughter of George Lauder, Jr., and wife, related to the Carnegies, and worth millions made in steel.

It was a tough problem for any man. Until he could enter the Lauder home as a man of wealth, he could admire but he could not attain the side of the fairy princess. He must have even more than wealth—he required also culture and social standing.

So Gene Tunney started out to get all these things.

For the next couple of years he fought his way up the path to pugilistic greatness. Then came the fight in Philadelphia that elevated him to the top of his chosen profession and battered Jack Dempsey to second place.

As champion, an unpopular one, Tunney remained undefeated but did not gain for himself the unrestricted plaudits of the mob. In his victory over Tom Heeney and two wins over Jack Dempsey, he won clearly but not in the established manner of the ring.

His fighting was too cool and systematic, too efficient. He lacked the color of a Dempsey. But the fights brought him money. Today he is said to be worth well nigh two million dollars.

During his reign as champion he found himself welcomed into the best homes of New York. Another ambition achieved.

With his social position established, his financial status at the par he desired, Tunney announced his retirement as heavyweight champion from the game he did not like and the game that did not like him. Now his engagement is announced.

Queer fellow, Tunney. Let it be said that he got what he went after.

New York, Aug. 9.—Gene Tunney who is to marry Mary Josephine Lauder, is a devout Catholic. Miss Lauder is a member of the Episcopal church.

Friends of Tunney and of the Lauder family said today that they knew of no reason why it would be necessary for either to accept the religious faith of the other when they are married.

TILDEN'S FUTURE IN TENNIS IS UNCERTAIN ONE

New York, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—William T. Tilden's future in amateur tennis remained uncertain today, but whatever happens Tilden will not enter professional tennis.

Back from the European invasion, Tilden said emphatically that he "would have nothing to do with professional tennis." Tilden said that he was approached by C. C. Pyle in France about entering professional tennis, but he turned down the offer.

SPIRIT OF OLYMPIA IS FLAUNTED ON THE SLOTAN CANAL

SONS OF MANY NATIONS FIGHT-ING FOR SUPREMACY OF BOATS

UNITED STATES TEAMS FAVOR-ITES TO WIN IN FINALS
TOMORROW

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Editor)

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Back in the early days when the Olympic games were started—776 A. M.—the Spartan lads were trained for athletic contests that denoted strength for battle conflict.

But today out on the Slotan canal the new spirit of Olympia is being brought out. Sons of many nations, their fine muscles rippling under sun bronzed skins, are fighting for supremacy of the boats.

And the husky sons of the United States are outstanding in the peace time dominance of athletic fitness.

Eight giants from the University of California; Ken Meyers, the engineer who in odd moments practices in the single sculls; the Penn Barge club with its four huskies and the two Penn A. C. men who pilot the United States double sculls entries, are the most watched men of this water phase of the great carnival of sport.

These United States teams are the favorites to win in the finals tomorrow. They all will have one day's rest. The California crew had a stiff battle against Canada to win into the final and against Great Britain's great Cambridge team will have a stiff battle to win the laurels that Yale won for the United States on the Seine in 1924.

Another British team will race against the Penn Barge club, that of the Thames Rowing club.

Ken Meyers should win as his work in the single sculls has been the outstanding performance to date while the double sculls team will have great opposition from Canada.

America's tank stars are showing well. George Kojac is smashing records consistently. Walter Lauder runs well behind him. Pete Des Jardens and Mickey Riley showed the way in the diving. Martha Norclius set up new records in winning for the United States.

The defensive teams in boxing also are making creditable performances.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—The United States set a new Olympic record in swimming at the Olympic games today, by winning the first heat in the women's 400 metres relay in four minutes, 55 3-5 seconds.

Holland captured second place, with South Africa and Denmark winning third and fourth.

George Kojac, New York, won the 100 metres backstroke. His time was one minute, eight and one-fifth seconds, a new world's record.

Walter Lauder, Chicago, was second in the finals of the 100 metres backstroke. His time was one minute and ten seconds.

Paul Wyatt, Uniontown, Pa., won third place in one minute and 12 seconds.

Charlton, Australia, was second in the 400 metres free style in five minutes, four and 3-5 seconds.

Stars Fall Out of the Game

By QUIN HALL.

EVERY year marks the passing of some of baseball's great idols.

In this respect 1928 hasn't varied much from the general run of years.

In fact it hasn't varied as much as an iota because already some of the famous players have hung up their gloves and others will follow after the regular season closes or, at least, before another season blossoms next Spring.

When Urban Shocker, the New York Yankee pitcher, received his release upon his own request recently, one of the players whose fame had rather more or less been overlooked by the singers, passed from activity around the Stadium headquarters of the club that boasts the services of Babe Ruth.

Shocker, one of the last of the vanishing race of spitball pitchers, had been a hold-out prior to the training season. At that time he intimated that he didn't care to pitch ball any longer and that he would prefer to remain in St. Louis and devote his time to building up a radio business which he had started during his off seasons. Nevertheless, he returned to the wars, but was unfortunate in having his pitching hand injured during an early work-out before the regular season opened.

During the regular season he pitched but two innings for the Yankees, and when he asked for his release, Miller Huggins, the pint-sized manager, took the only course left open to him, despite the fact that the Miller hated to see the passing of Shocker.

Shocker gained for himself the reputation of being one of the brainiest twirlers that ever climbed onto a hill. He always pitched with his arm, his head and his heart, and if he failed to achieve stardom as a twirler there were times when he missed it only by the thickness of an auburn hair.

Starting as a catcher, Shocker switched to a moundman when a pal of his showed him how to throw a spitter. He was with the Windsor club in the Border League in 1913, with Ottawa in the Canadian League in 1914 and 1915, and first came to the majors with the Yankees in 1916.

In May he was optioned out to the Toronto club in the International League, but was recalled in August. He pitched for the Yankees during 1917, but when Huggins assumed the management of the club in 1918 he traded Urban to St. Louis. For eight years he was the Browns' ablest twirler, and by defeating the Yankees often he impressed Huggins to such an extent that the Miller made a deal for him in the winter of 1924-25, and established him as the only player once traded by Huggins to return to the club.

Over the spread of years he had a remarkably low earned run average, and in only one year did he fail to win more games than he lost. Last year was his best season, and he finished by winning 18 and losing 6, for a percentage of .750.

Another famous player who has probably had his last big year and who may pass out of active ranks following his release as a manager is Ray Schalk, of the Chicago White Sox. The Cracker has been with the White Sox warriors since 1912 when Comiskey purchased him from the Milwaukee club for $15,000. From 1923 to 1925, excepting the season of 1924, Ray caught more than 100 games each year. In 1926 he worked in eighty. He worked in 1,706 games for a general average of .981 which makes him the best receiver Comiskey ever owned and one of the outstanding backstops of all time.

Such old timers as Shocker and Schalk are real assets to the game of baseball and they often pass out the gates without receiving the praise to which they are justly entitled.

GENE TUNNEY IS TO MARRY RICH SOCIETY GIRL

ENGAGEMENT CONFIRMED LAST NIGHT

THEY WILL BE MARRIED THIS AUTUMN OR WINTER IN
NEW YORK

ROMANCE OF TWO GOES BACK 6
YEARS AGO WHEN GIRL WAS
16 YEARS OLD

By MORRIS DE HAVEN

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 9.—The love of a man for a maid has given the world its most remarkable heavyweight champion pugilist.

The champion is Gene Tunney,
now retired. And the maid is Mary Josephine Lauder, daughter of one of the country's first and richest families. They will be married this autumn or winter, probably in New York.

The rumored engagement of the champion and the Greenwich, Conn., society girl, was confirmed last night
in an announcement made by friends of Tunney and of Mrs. George Lauder, Jr., the mother of Miss Lauder, at Mrs. Lauder's request. Only with that announcement did it become possible to tell the true story of why Gene Tunney not only became a champion and a millionaire, but also how he became a Shakespearean scholar, a man of culture, and a man received into the salons and drawing room of the elite.

The story, when told, removes the mystery from the activities of Tunney while champion — activities which often brought him jeers from the followers of pugilism.

As gathered from friends of Tunney and of the Lauder family, the romance goes back some five or six years when Mary Josephine Lauder was a girl of about 16. Tunney found her an altogether charming young woman.

After his usual thoughtful method of operation, he took stock of himself. He was a young prize-fighter, just getting a little more than started. His social position was that of the son of Irish immigrants, born in Greenwich Village, N. Y., and turned prize-fighter.

Mary Josephine Lauder was the daughter of George Lauder, Jr., and wife, related to the Carnegies, and worth millions made in steel.

It was a tough problem for any man. Until he could enter the Lauder home as a man of wealth, he could admire but he could not attain the side of the fairy princess. He must have even more than wealth—he required also culture and social standing.

So Gene Tunney started out to get all these things.

For the next couple of years he fought his way up the path to pugilistic greatness. Then came the fight in Philadelphia that elevated him to the top of his chosen profession and battered Jack Dempsey to second place.

As champion, an unpopular one,
Tunney remained undefeated but did not gain for himself the unrestricted plaudits of the mob. In his victory over Tom Heeney and two years over Jack Dempsey, he won clearly but not in the established manner of the ring.

His fighting was too cool and systematic, too efficient. He lacked the color of a Dempsey. But the fights brought him money. Today he is said to be worth well nigh two million dollars.

During his reign as champion he found himself welcomed into the best homes of New York. Another ambition achieved.

With his social position established, his financial status at the par he desired, Tunney announced his re-irement as heavyweight champion from the game he did not like and the game that did not like him. Now his engagement is announced.

Queer fellow, Tunney. Let it be said that he got what he went after.

New York, Aug. 9.—Gene Tunney who is to marry Mary Josephine Lauder, is a devout Catholic. Miss Lauder is a member of the Episcopalian church.

Friends of Tunney and of the Lauder family said today that they knew of no reason why it would be necessary for either to accept the religious faith of the other when they are married.

TILDEN'S FUTURE IN TENNIS IS UNCERTAIN ONE

New York, Aug. 9.—(U.P.)—William T. Tilden's future in amateur tennis remained uncertain
today, but whatever happens Tilden will not enter professional tennis.

Back from the European invasion, Tilden said emphatically that he "would have nothing to do with professional tennis." Tilden said that he was approached by C. C. Pyle in France about entering professional tennis, but he turned down the offer.

SPIRIT OF OLYMPIA IS FLAUNTED ON THE SLOTAN CANAL

SONS OF MANY NATIONS FIGHT-ING FOR SUPREMACY OF
BOATS

UNITED STATES TEAMS FAVOR-ITES TO WIN IN FINALS
TOMORROW

By FRANK GETTY

(United Press Sports Editor)

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—Back in the early days when the Olympic games were started—776 A. M.—the Spartan lads were trained for athletic contests that denoted strength for battle conflict.

But today out on the Slotan canal
the new spirit of Olympia is being brought out. Sons of many nations, their fine muscles rippling under sun bronzed skins, are fighting for supremacy of the boats.

And the husky sons of the United States are outstanding in the peace time dominance of athletic fitness.

Eight giants from the University of California; Ken Meyers, the engineer who in odd moments practices in the single sculls; the Penn Barge club with its four huskies and the two Penn A. C. men who pilot the United States double sculls entries, are the most watched men of this water phase of the great carnival of sport.

These United States teams are the favorites to win in the finals tomorrow. They all will have one day's rest. The California crew had a stiff battle against Canada to win into the final and against Great Britain's great Cambridge team will have a stiff battle to win the laurels that Yale won for the United States on the Seine in 1924.

Another British team will race against the Penn Barge club, that of the Thames Rowing Club.

Ken Meyers should win as his work in the single sculls has been the outstanding performance to date while the double sculls team will have great opposition from Canada.

America's tank stars are showing well. George Kojac is smashing records consistently. Walter Laufer runs well behind him. Pete Des Jardins and Mickey Riley showed the way in the diving. Martha Norelius set up new records in winning for the United States.

The defensive teams in boxing
also are making creditable performances.

Amsterdam, Aug. 9.—The United States set a new Olympic record in swimming at the Olympic games today, by winning the first heat in the women's 400 metres relay in four minutes, 55 3-5 seconds.

Holland captured second place,
with South Africa and Denmark winning third and fourth.

George Kojac, New York, won the 100 metres backstroke. His time was one minute, eight and one-fifth seconds, a new world's record.

Walter Laufer, Chicago, was second in the finals of the 100 metres backstroke. His time was one minute and ten seconds.

Paul Wyatt, Untontown, Pa., won third place in one minute and 12 seconds.

Charlton, Australia, was second in the 400 metres free style in five minutes, four and 3-5 seconds.

Stars Fall Out of the Game

Urban SHOCKER

By QUIN HALL.

EVERY year marks the passing of some of baseball's great idols.

In this respect 1928 hasn't varied much from the general run of years.

In fact it hasn't varied as much as an iota because already some of the famous players have hung up their gloves and others will follow after the regular season closes or, at least, before another season blossoms next Spring.

When Urban Shocker, the New York Yankee pitcher, received his release upon his own request recently, one of the players whose fame had rather more or less been overlooked by the singers, passed from activity around the Stadium headquarters of the club that boasts the services of Babe Ruth.
Shocker, one of the last of the vanishing race of spitball pitchers, had been a hold-out prior to the training season. At that time he intimated that he didn't care to pitch ball any longer and that he would prefer to remain in St. Louis and devote his time to building up a radio business which he had started during his off seasons.
Nevertheless, he returned to the vars, but was unfortunate in having his pitching hand injured during an early work-out before the regular season opened.

During the regular season he pitched but two innings for the Yankees, and when he asked for his release, Miller Huggins, the pint-sized manager, took the only course left open to him, despite the fact that the Miller hated to see the passing of Shocker.

Shocker gained for himself the reputation of being one of the brainiest twirlers that ever climbed onto a hill. He always pitched with his arm, his head and his heart, and if he failed to achieve stardom as a twirler there were times when he missed it only by the thickness of an auburn hair.

Starting as a catcher, Shocker switched to a moundman when a pal of his showed him how to throw a spitball. He was with the Windsor club in the Border League in 1913, with Ottawa in the Canadian League in 1914 and 1915, and first came to the majors with the Yankees in 1916. In May he was optioned out to the Toronto club in the international League, but was recalled in August. He pitched for the Yankees during 1917, but when Huggins assumed the management of the club in 1918 he traded Urban to St. Louis. For eight years he was the Browns' ablest twirler, and by defeating the Yankees often he impressed Huggins to such an extent that the Miller made a deal for him in the winter of 1924-25,

and established him as the only player once traded by Huggins to return to the club.

Over the spread of years he had a remarkably low earned run average, and in only one year did he fail to win more games than he lost. Last year was his best season, and he finished by winning 18 and losing 6, for a percentage of .750.

Another famous player who has probably had his last big year and who may pass out of active ranks
following his release as a manager is Ray Schalk, of the Chicago White Sox. The Cracker has been with the White Sox warriors since 1912 when Comiskey purchased him from the Milwaukee club for $15,000. From 1923 to 1925, excepting the season of 1924, Ray caught more than 100 games each year. In 1926 he worked in eighty. He worked in 1,706 games for a general average of .981 which makes him the best receiver Comiskey ever owned and one of the outstanding backstops of all time.

Such old timers as Shocker and Schalk are real assets to the game of baseball and they often pass out the gates without receiving the praise to which they are justly entitled.

"Chesterfield?
-blow some my way!"

Mild enough for anybody
... and yet they Satisfy*

*SMOKERS want a mild cigarette, but not one that tastes flat.

What they do want is mildness with taste.
They want a cigarette that will satisfy.
Chesterfield cigarettes are blended and cross-blended from mild, pure, fragrant tobaccos in such a way as to give you mildness without the loss of taste.

White mild enough for anybody,

Y. M. C. A. DROPS OUT; I. O. O. F.
PICK "Y" STARS TO STRENGTHEN THEIR RANKS

I. O. O. F. will make a strong attempt tonight to defeat the fast Northeast team in a city league baseball game at the municipal field.

Engbretson and Bernard will handle the battery assignment for the I. O. O. F. with Jarboe and Fogelstrom on duty for the Northeast boys.

The I. O. O. F. team will be greatly strengthened by the acquisition of leading Y. M. C. A. stars. The latter team dropped out of the race this week.

Watching the Scoreboard

(By United Press)

Yesterday's Hero—Bob Smith, Boston Braves' right hander, who allowed the Cincinnati Reds only two hits in the second game, Hornsby's team winning the double header, 6 to 3 and 12 to 1. Smith also hit two singles and a double.

Collecting 15 hits off Sherdel, Haid and Frankhouse, the New York Giants beat St. Louis 10 to 5, and reduced the Cardinals' lead to 4½ games.

Striving desperately to get back into the pennant race, the Pittsburgh Pirates annexed their seventh straight victory by making it three in a row from the Brooklyn Robins 4 to 3. The Pirates are now 10 games from the top.

Lerian's sacrifice fly with the bases filled in the ninth scored Whitney and the Philadelphia Phillies won the fourth straight game from the Chicago Cubs, 4 to 3.

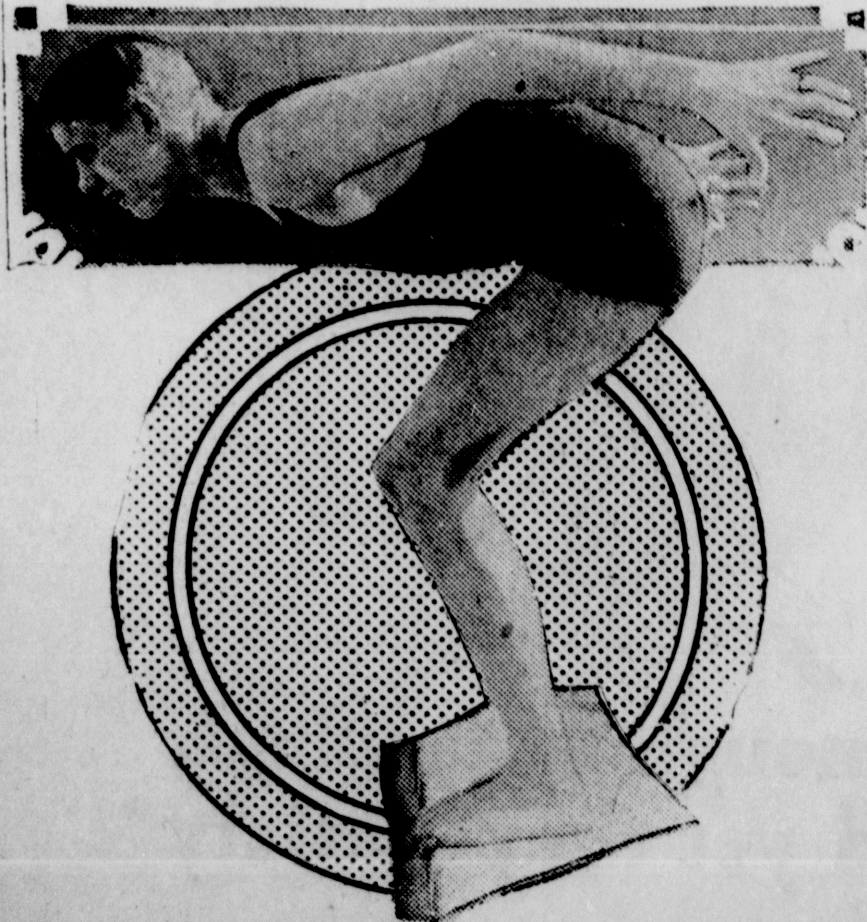

All American league teams had an off day.

GETTING THERE

"When I grow up I want to be Miss Universe." These words would not be at all surprising if spoken by Henriette Kowan, 6, who has an early start, having already won a beauty contest in competition with 300 other Chicago girls for the title, "Little Miss Rogers Park."

Swede Wins 1,500-Metre Swim

Arne Borg, the "Swedish Hurricane," who won the 1,500 metre free style swimming championship in the remarkable time of 19 minutes 51 4-5 seconds, a world's record. Andrew Charlton, Australian crack, finished in second place, and Clarence Crabbe, American, was third.

STORM OF CAMPAIGN TO BE HELD BACK 6 WEEKS
BEFORE NOVEMBER 6

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Palo Alto, Calif., Aug. 9. (UP)—The storm of the republican presidential campaign will be held back until the last six weeks before November 6, and until that time there will be as much calm as possible around the headquarters of Herbert Hoover, the republican presidential nominee—a spokesman for the candidate made clear today.

The statement was made in answer to complaints from newspapermen and others that there is no news emanating from the campus home of the republican nominee.

The startling lack of official information concerning future plans of action, announcements and subsequent denials regarding speeches and even the itinerary of next week's trip back to Washington were thus explained by the candidate's most authoritative source.

Many campaigns have been won in August that were lost in November. Many speeches have been made in September that were forgotten before election day. Hoover now is prepared to make sure that neither of these two common campaign faults are committed in this campaign.

In the last six weeks of the campaign, the nominee will make many speeches and will be heard daily through the press or the other avenues of publicity, it was explained.

Meantime there will be silence, and no matter how exasperating it may be to voters, republican publicists or newspapermen accompanying the candidate, it still will be silence.

GIRL REPORTER STOWAWAY GETS JAIL SENTENCE

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 9. (UP)—Miss Betty Simpson, 25, who gave her address as Ada, Okla., and said she was a newspaper reporter, was sentenced to four weeks imprisonment at the police court today for stowing away on the liner Aquitania. It was said to be the girl's fourth voyage as a stowaway.

POLICE OF 3 CITIES IN SEARCH OF BANDIT GANG ROBBER CAR

St. Paul, Aug. 9. (UP)—Police of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Winnipeg joined today in the search for the bandit gang which yesterday held up and robbed an armored money car here of nearly $20,000 in currency.

The bandits who overpowered the money car driver and his five companions are believed the same gang which perpetrated the recent $25,000 bank messenger robbery in Winnipeg.

Canadian authorities furnished St. Paul police with the names of six men who are believed responsible for the holdups.

While a search was made of the cities and the surrounding countryside for the automobile in which the tear gas bandits made their escape few other clues upon which to work were uncovered.

Possibility of the bandits' escape by airplane was also checked by police. The authorities, however, are conducting investigations as secretly as possible so little has been learned of developments.

WOMAN CHARGED WITH STABBING HUSBAND TO DEATH

New York, Aug. 9. (UP)—In the same cell in the Long Island city jail where Ruth Snyder once was held, Mrs. Frances Kirkwood waited today for trial on a charge of stabbing her 26-year-old husband, Glenn, to death. It was the second murder that has startled the calm of home-like Queens village. It was in that section that Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray killed Albert Snyder.

Neighborhood gossip, suspicion and jealousy, were said by police to be the causes of this latest Queens village affair.

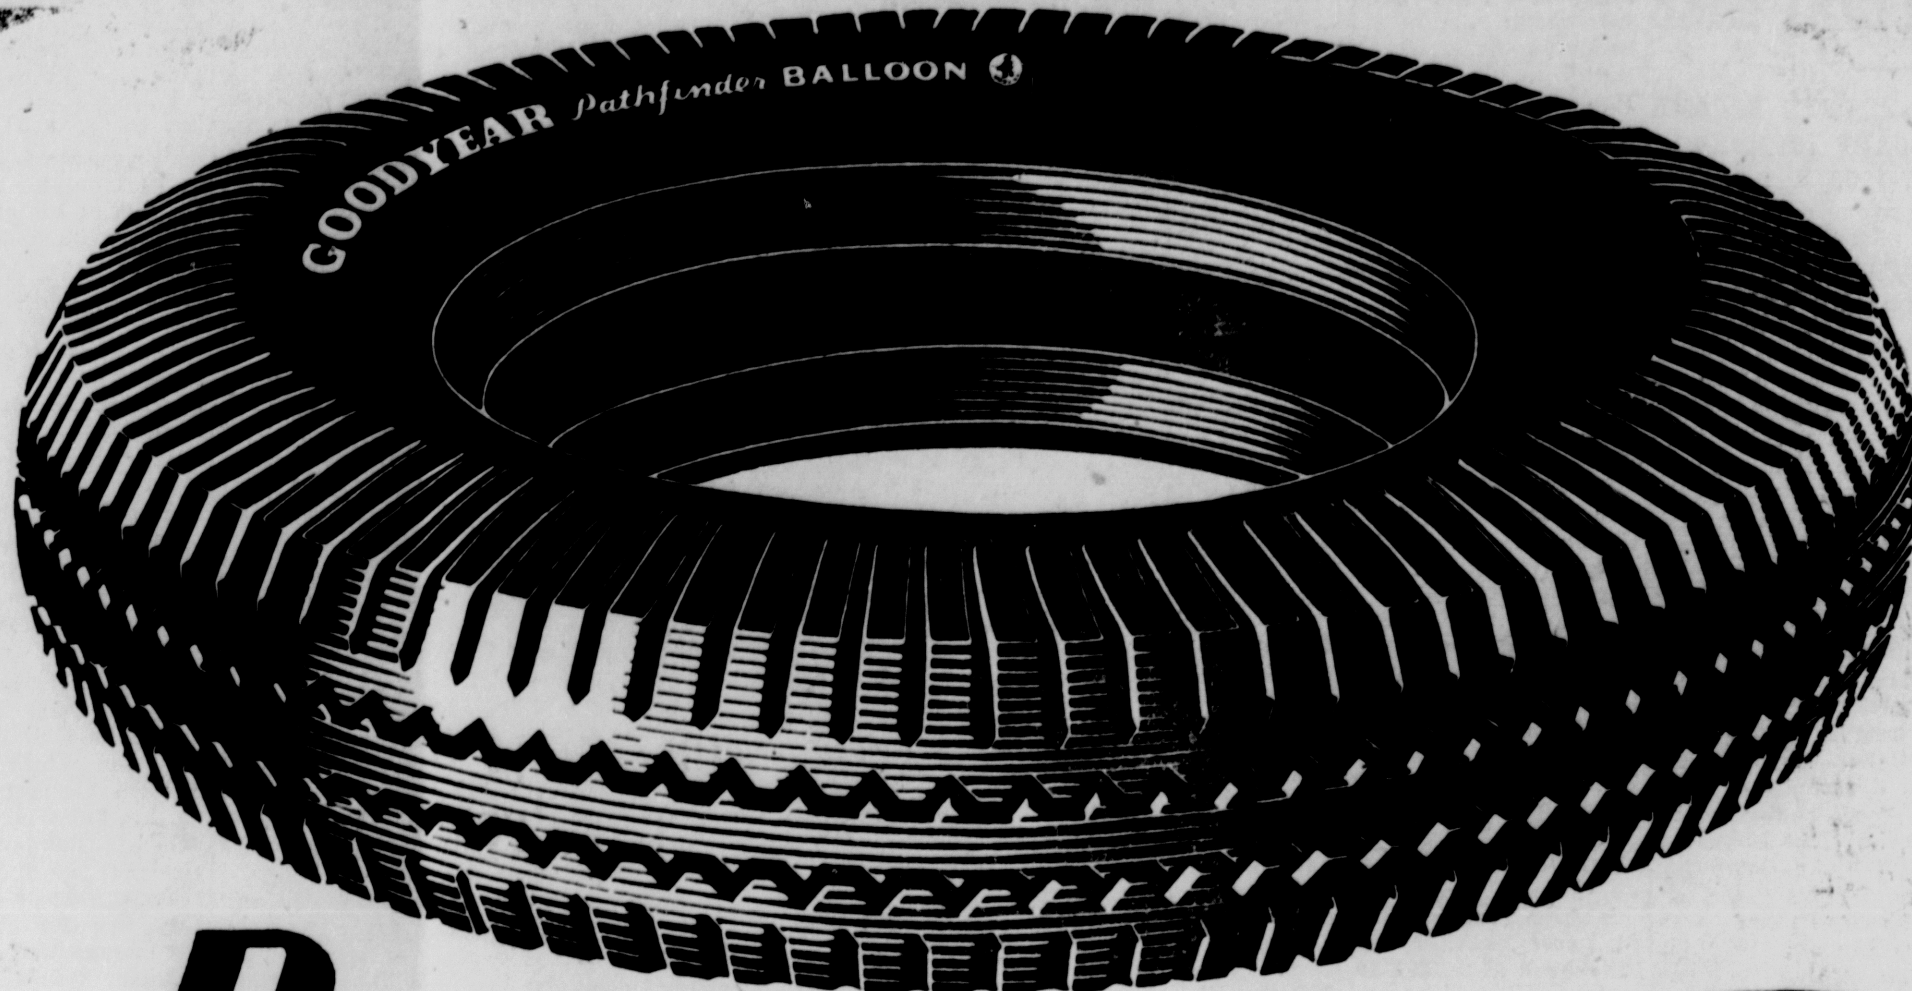

Mrs. Kirkwood said she returned from a vacation and heard reports from neighbors that her husband had been on a number of gay studio parties while she was away.

She said they argued Tuesday morning and finally she decided to end her own life. Her husband struggled for possession of the bread knife she held and he was stabbed, dying within a few hours.

The Queens Village matron told her story to authorities in the same district attorney's office where Ruth Snyder had confessed to the murder of Albert Snyder.

To contrast with the story told by Mrs. Kirkwood, William Reuman, a radio announcer at whose studio neighborhood gossip had Kirkwood a frequent guest, said that Mrs. Kirkwood had made a wild taxicab ride just previous to the stabbing and had appeared intoxicated.

PLAN SOCIETY'S BEST FLOWER EXHIBITION

Thousands of Flowers to be Entered in Annual Show, August 22, 23

EIGHTY CLASSIFICATIONS

Two Silver Cups, 60 Peony, 175 Iris Roots, 200 Gladiolus Bulbs in Prize List

Thousands of flowers in season will be entered in what is planned to be Crow Wing County Garden Flower society's biggest flower show to be held on two floors of the court house, August 22 and 23.

The classification committee is busy making up the premium list which will be larger than ever before, there being 80 classifications with three prizes in each.

Special appeal is made to those who have never exhibited flowers, as well as to non residents of the county who are vacationing in the lake region, to exhibit their flowers.

This year beside the grand awards, the prizes will consist of peonies, iris and gladiolus. According to plans now being formulated about 60 peony roots, 175 iris roots and 200 gladiolus bulbs are to be distributed as prizes. Standard varieties are being purchased by the Garden Flower society for this purpose. The iris roots are to be distributed at the time of the show, the peony roots to be distributed later in the fall at their proper planting time. The varieties are choice and are all worth competing for. A special classification for those who have never won a prize at a show before has been instituted. There will also be classifications for unnamed dahlias and gladiolus.

A complete classification list will be published shortly in order to give those competing an opportunity to plan their entrance. There will be no charge for exhibiting or those attending the show.

All flower growers are earnestly requested to enter as many flowers as they desire and those who have only a few flowers are also requested to enter as they may have the flower that will carry off a sweepstake prize.

Two silver cups are to be awarded, the one for the best dahlia and the other for the three best gladiolus spikes.

George Kampmann, Jr., is also awarding a garden seat for the finest gladiolus spike in the show.

For the three best dahlias in the show, 12 choice gladiolus bulbs will be given as a prize by Dr. L. F. Hawkins.

It is not necessary to be a member to the Garden Flower society to exhibit or win a prize but those who are not already members are cordially invited to join, the fee being one dollar for a year.

FOUR EXPERIENCE AIR RIDE OVER CITY

Thrilled With Beauty of Scenery of Lake District From an Altitude

PLANES WILL BE HERE SUNDAY

Were Able to See Woman Lake, 50 Miles Away, Clearly

Courtesy airplane rides were extended to four Brainerd people today when Pilot G. O. Imm of The Northern Airport, Maynard, Minn., took his passengers over Brainerd and the adjoining lake country. It was the first time up for three of the passengers and the experience is one that they will long remember.

"You could travel a thousand miles and spend thousands of dollars and not experience that same thrill," were the words of Carl Wright, city park board board commissioner as he stepped from the plane on Rosko field this morning after completing his first flight in the air.

Miss Nellie McClary, of the O'Brien Mercantile Company also experienced her first air ride this morning. "I don't know whether I'll be able to get my mind on my work for some time or not after a thrill like that," she said as she stepped from the Travelair plane after 10 minutes of joyous riding over Brainerd and the lake region.

E. W. Paine of the Rosko Brothers garage was also a passenger and although it was not his first time in the air, he was very enthusiastic about the sensation of being in the air and the advantages in viewing the lake country from an altitude. A Dispatch reporter was the fourth person to experience the beauties of Brainerd and vicinity from the air.

Carl Wright in speaking further of the ride said, "I was surprised to see the difference in the color of the river water from that in the lakes, and also the ease with which the shallows in the lakes could be detected. The fields of uncut grain together with the pasture lands gave a beautiful checkerboard effect. But the most surprising thing to me was that I was able to see Woman Lake clearly although it is 50 miles from Brainerd."

Miss McClary marveled at the way the plane glided off the ground and she compared the ride in the air to one in a boat. The tininess of the houses and business district from an altitude were very amusing to her. She seemed to feel that one felt far safer in the air with a good pilot than in standing on the top of a high building and looking into the streets below.

Pilots Imm and Young are to be here for a two day engagement Sunday and Monday and will take up two passengers at a time in their Waco and Travelair planes at a nominal charge. Young is scheduled to make a 1,500 feet parachute drop onto Rosko field Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

BOY SCOUTS RETURN FROM ITASCA PARK

Staff at Camp Clearwater Enjoy Nature at Its Best in Ramblings Through Park

ATTEND TRAINING CONFERENCE

See Beaver at Work, Deer at Close Range and Elk Race Through Thick Forest

The staff from Scout Camp Clearwater, which has just closed a very successful season, returned from Itasca Park yesterday afternoon. Gordon Cross of Staples, James Richards of Brainerd, Charles Guernon, Little Falls, Jay Garceau, Crosby, B. P. Newton, scout executive, and "Nogo," the camp mascot, left Sunday morning early for a three day post camp trip into Itasca Park, there to enjoy nature at its best. Mr. Linder, superintendent of the park, very kindly allowed the boys to use one of the rangers' cabins known as Nicollet cabin located in one of the finest stands of Norway and balsam that the park has to offer. The boys report that upon going down to the spring for drinking water they were much surprised to find the beaver had built a large dam across, banking up the water a considerable distance covering up the spring. This made it rather difficult to secure drinking water but afforded an opportunity to see the beaver at work.

On Monday morning, the group attended the Regional Scout Leaders' Training Conference which was in session of the Forestry school under the auspices of the University of Minnesota extension department. There the boys met L. L. McDonald, national director of Camping Department, New York City, and were all very much impressed by his personality and the information which he gave them. Lunch was had by the headquarters of the Mississippi river after which the group climbed an 80 foot observation tower overlooking the park. They then returned to the Forestry school where they had a swim after which they returned to Nicollet cabin, stopping en route to inspect Douglas lodge.

Tuesday morning was spent at the cabin, hiking around the ports of interest nearby and thoroughly enjoying the wonderful scenery and making pictures of it. Tuesday afternoon, the boys returned again to the Forestry school where they met Captain Mills, national director of camp water front and swimming activities. Captain Mills gave a very splendid demonstration of proper canoeing methods after which the group had a swim and returned to Nicollet cabin for supper. The boys report that they saw a great many wild deer, also an elk. As the wild life in the park is very tame, they were able to walk by within 50 or 60 feet of does and fawns before they would run off into the brush. The boys all seemed to question whether a large buck with a spread of horns could go very fast through the trees where they were close together but one big, old buck very obligingly allowed them to get quite close and turned around and all they could see was a flash of tan going through the brush between the big trees. They are all wondering yet how he got between some of the places where he went.

The group left Douglas lodge about 10 o'clock Wednesday, arriving back the early part of the afternoon. The boys all decided that if that was going to be an annual affair for the camp staff at Clearwater, they would like to be there again for another opportunity at Itasca. Mr. Linder, superintendent of the park very kindly offered them the use of the same cabin this winter if they desired to return and see the park under its blanket of white. The boys are all very keen to take advantage of this offer if such is possible.

The same public discernment which made Essex the world's largest selling "Six," gives picture-like vividness to this car's enormous excess of value.

It is impressive to know that point for point the Essex Super-Six equals or excels any car up to $300 or $400 greater cost. But color figures can't express the drama of this Chicago school teacher who writes:

"I looked at several costlier cars first, but I liked the Essex much better in every way, and I saved enough to pay almost all expenses of my European trip."

Or this Ohio business man: "My Essex gives me every fine car quality and performance ability which our former costlier car gave, and we saved enough to pay for the whole family's touring vacation."

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

ALEDA RAY, pretty country girl working in New York as a stenographer, and Gary Chester, young engineer, are in love. Alela is living with Marise de Rense and the latter's young, sophisticated sister, Goldie. Goldie, jealous of Alela, tricks her into attending a scandalous party and then notifies Gary. Gary, disillusioned, avoids Alela. Goldie calls at Alela's office and trails into the elevator after Gary Chester.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XLIII.

"WHAT a pleasant surprise!" Goldie, with a disarming frankness, held out her hand to Gary Chester in the rising elevator.

For a moment he was puzzled. Where on earth had he met the girl before?

Then he remembered the roof-apartment party. Also—vaguely—wasn't there some night club?

"It was awfully good of you to take Alela home!" gushed Goldie. "I was so worried about her!"

He frowned. Presumptuous it was in this part of the game to adopt in connection with Alela—such a patronizing air! The inference in her remark, too, was not pleasant. He answered, stiffly: "I think Miss Ray was as glad to go home as I was to have her company."

"How very—gallant!" Annoyed as she was by this rejoinder, Goldie contrived a naive smile. When the elevator reached the floor on which William B. Lingard's office was located, she skipped out of the car by the side of the young man. "Looks as though I'm going your way?" This with an arch upward glance.

"Confound the girl!" thought Gary Chester as they walked down a passage. He wished she would be off. Fervently he hoped he had not missed Alela? What a fool he'd been, not to have telephoned! What an ass to have returned her property with such a curt note!

He frowned again as he thought of the gift containing the $50 bill. If she was the right sort of girl—and, of course, she was—"true blue" despite the company in which he'd found her, and despite this red-haired "gamine's" innuendoes—she would never accept money from a man—she'd send it back!

The young woman at the switch-board of William B. Lingard's office informed him that the chief

Twice Gary cleared his throat before he asked, abruptly: "Did she accept—this invitation?"

Goldie's green eyes widened. "Why, yes!" It was one of those awfully wealthy fellows—he was very nice. For at the party—I can't think why, why, she encouraged him so last night. She now has to go and give this back?" From her handbag Goldie produced the little vanity case.

Gary stared at the trinket. "That the same one I took from you when Miss Ray and I left the roof-apartment?" The query was sharp.

"Yes. It was a present for Alela." Then, as though a light dawned suddenly, she gave a gurgling exclamation: "Huh! I've got it! This was a gift from Mr. Smithson. Alela knows he married, so he isn't any catch! The other boy-friend's sore about her taking things, in any case, from another man—she's playing the one off against the other—her 'butter and egg' admirer 'tall'—I doubt give her something a whole heap handsomer tonight!"

Gary regarded Goldie frigidly. "You have a very poor opinion of your friend."

Her gaze—extraordinarily naive it seemed—met his. "I have a great opinion of Alela! For all she looks so simple, she knows her onions, alright! She's awake to her own interest! She's up to the mark!" Goldie opened the lid of the vanity case, holding the trinket so that Gary could see inside.

"There was a $50 bill—" escaped him before he could bite it back.

Goldie laughed meaningly. "Doesn't that prove Alela's clever? She removed the money from the case before the grand gesture of returning the case to the giver! She took out the $50 in my presence half an hour ago! You ask her! And it's my belief—and I'm not blaming her, because money is a temptation—she's left the office in a hurry to get to the shops before closing time, and buy herself some glad rags for tonight! The only thing is—" here Goldie achieved a plaintive touch—"she's put me in an awkward position with Smithson! I've got to do the dirty deed on her behalf—I've got to hand him back his case minus his cash!"

RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright. Get 24 for 25c to day at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Experiment With Reindeer

The production of reindeer, although a promising industry in Alaska, is not suited to conditions in any part of the United States. Reindeer grazing is limited to the Arctic and subarctic regions. The bureau of biological survey is making detailed investigations regarding the food resources of Alaska suited to these animals; also of the management practices that are most successful, and of the diseases and parasites of reindeer.

The young woman at the switchboard of William B. Lingard's office informed him that the chief already had a caller. Would he wait?

Oh, yes! Here was the chance he wanted for a word with Alveda. He had only made a pretext of coming here to speak to her employer, in order to get in touch with her!

He felt irritated when Goldie coolly accompanied him into the room in which Alveda worked.

With a sinking heart he saw her desk was closed, the typewriter put away—Alveda was gone! The green eyes of Goldie caught that look of bitter disappointment. Aflame with jealousy (she must get even with Alveda!) her mind worked rapidly.

"Well, of all the nerve! She promised to wait for me!—I was in here talking to her only ten minutes ago!"

At that she saw his face light up, and he turned quickly toward the door. "She can't have gone far! I'll try to catch up with her!"

That was contrary to what Goldie wanted. She said, in a quick, staccato tone: "Oh, it wouldn't be any use! Alveda has a date tonight!"

"With me? She told you that? What did she say?" He stopped in his tracks, wheeling about. His eyes were eager as a boy's when he first falls in love—shy, expectant.

Goldie contrived an arch, half deprecatory laugh. "Oh, no. She didn't say anything. It was just something I heard her say—to some man—over the telephone!" Then, fibbing even more boldly, afraid that Gary might call Alveda at home if she were not more specific in her news, she added, as though it were torn from her reluctantly: "It's none of my business whom Alveda dines with and goes with to the theatre, but from the sound of the voice on the line—and I couldn't help overhearing—it was one of the men from the party last night."

Twice Gary cleared his throat before he asked, abruptly: "Did she accept—this invitation?"

Goldie's green eyes widened. "Why, yes! It was one of those awfully wealthy fellows—he was very attentive over at the party—I can't think why, when she encouraged him so last night, she now has to go and give this back?" From her handbag Goldie produced the little vanity case.

Gary stared at the trinket. "That the same one I took from you when Miss Ray and I left the roof-apartment?" The query was sharp.

Her gaze—extraordinarily naïve it seemed—met his. "I have a great opinion of Alveda! For all she looks so simple, she 'knows her onions,' alright! She's awake to her own interest! She's up to the mark!" Goldie opened the lid of the vanity case, holding the trinket so that Gary could see inside.

"There was a $50 bill!" escaped him before he could bite it back.

Goldie laughed meaningly. "Doesn't that prove Alveda's clever? She removed the money from the case before the grand gesture of returning the case to the giver! ## RELIEF FROM CURSE OF CONSTIPATION

A Battle Creek physician says, "Constipation is responsible for more misery than any other cause."

But immediate relief has been found. A tablet called Rexall Orderlies has been discovered. This tablet attracts water from the system into the lazy, dry, evacuating bowel called the colon. The water loosens the dry food waste and causes a gentle, thorough, natural movement without forming a habit or ever increasing the dose.

Stop suffering from constipation. Chew a Rexall Orderly at night. Next day bright Get 24 for 25c to-day at the nearest Rexall Drug Store.

Experiment With Reindeer
The production of reindeer, although a promising industry in Alaska, is not suited to conditions in any part of the United States. Reindeer grazing is limited to the Arctic and subarctic regions. The bureau of biological survey is making detailed investigations regarding the food resources of Alaska suited to these animals; also of the management practices that are most successful, and of the diseases and parasites of reindeer.

Lakes Legal "Seas"
The Great lakes possess every essential characteristic of seas and in a decision of the United States Supreme court, October term 1893, it was held that the Great lakes are seas in a legal sense of the term.

Men A Skinny Bony Form Is Ridiculed
You may not realize it but your bony, skinny figure is robbing you of popularity.

No More Piles
Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. Dr. Leonhardt's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds because it relieves this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has a wonderful record for quick, safe and lasting relief to Pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. H. P. Dunn, Johnson's Pharmacy and druggists anywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.
